

Instructions to the reviewers

In principle, the journal of Global Clinical and Translational Research implements a double-blind review. If the reviewer wants to see the author information that may help them to evaluate this manuscript, please feel free to contact us at gcat@gcatresearch.com, we would be happy to provide.

Please keep all manuscripts under review to confidential

Manuscript ID
Date of received
Name of Reviewer
Affiliation of reviewer
Email address
Phone number

Summary sheet:

	Choose one it fits
	1=Yes	0=No	NA
1. Does the title reflect the contents of the manuscript?
2. Dose the abstract include enough detail of the methods.
3. Is the manuscript written in clear and standard English (Besides grammatical error)?
4. Is the data used in the analysis new? (NA, for meta-analysis and systematic review)
5. Is statistical analysis performed appropriate? (pay attention to a justification to choose a method, we will have a statistical reviewer to answer this question; NA for not sure)
6. Is the objective clearly stated in the manuscript?
7. Does this paper test a specific hypothesis? (If yes, please answer the question below)
8. Does the paper state the determination of sample size
9. If a observational study, does it include a independent replication sample or refer to existing literature of the same kind of study in the discussion
10. To what degree (give a rating of 1-10) the findings support the hypothesis (We give the opportunity to publish negative results)
11. How do you rate the novel compared with existing literature? (1-10)

12. What is your recommendation to the editors? (Accept, major revision, minor revision, or reject)
13. Would you like to review a revised version of the manuscript if there is a need?

- What is the major value of this paper if published?

- In what area do you think this manuscript can be improved in addition to those specific comments?

- Would you like to write a short commentary on this manuscript when it is accepted for a publication? (This is for invited only, for those papers the editors choose; it will normally 300-1000 and be published in the same issue within this paper and posted in blog on our website).

Specific comments (please paste below)